Library items available via mail

On June 16, the Gloucester County Library System will begin offering its customers the option of receiving items they have placed on hold through the mail.

Called MailLit, the service will send any book, CD or DVD from the system's collection to the library's registered borrowers at their homes. The program is funded through a grant from the South Jersey Regional Library Cooperative.

Currently, borrowers reserving an item can have it delivered to their closest branch library for pickup. With MailLit, borrowers have the option of choosing "mail" at the time the customer places a hold on a title in the library's collection.

Items at the library system's five branches, in Mullica Hill, Glassboro, Greenwich Township, Logan Township or Swedesboro, will be mailed to the customer by the end of the next business day after the hold has been placed.

Holds can be placed from the library's online catalog by going to www.gcls.org and clicking on "Library Catalog."

MailLit customers can return their materials in the mailing container used to ship the items using the enclosed mailing label. The customer will be responsible for return postage, or the item can be dropped off at the nearest library for free.

For more information, call the Gloucester County Library's circulation department at 856-223-6060.

35 acres added to Monroe Twp. Park

Gloucester County added 35 acres of land to Owens Memorial Park in Monroe Township late last month.

The acquisition nearly doubled the size of the park, which had been 36 acres.

The land will be "dedicated to recreation for present and future generations," Freeholder
